Run report for run 2196

Venue, 44 B Basin Rd West Launceston

Hare: Abba

Weather, warm but not a heat wave .25^{oc}. Another total fire ban

THE RUN GOES SOME- THING LIKE THIS

The smoke has cleared over Launceston and it is Australia Day and tonight's run is bought to you by the EX Swede now a fully-fledged Australian ABBA. As it's a public holiday most Hashers have arrived early and are admiring Abbas new concrete drive way, Bugsy says there's enough concrete in there to extend the Launceston Airport runway to take Jumbo jets. The Hashers are too busy admiring the concrete to notice the beer trailer has not arrived, except for Blakey. Abba sys in his Australia

Day accent never fear my buddy Derb's is bringing it with him. There is utter silence all Hashers think Derbs has gone to Swansea for the long weekend will it be a dry Australia Day run??. My Buddy Derbs will not let me down. ON ON calls Abba the run starts out in the sheep paddock. The dribble dropper loaded with Baby formula marks the Trail.

The first obstacle is the new fence across the sheep paddock an old rusty sheet of concrete reo. Two short hashers nearly loose there testicles climbing over. The trail leads the pack down to Kings Bridge via the Gorge Zig Zag track. The trail leads up the steps but a couple of sludge arse runners call on on up the Basin Track and of course the rest of the Hashers follow like lost sheep. Goblet finally realizes we are off track and heads back to Kings bridge and heads up the steps. The trail follows the fire trail on the Northern side of the Trevallyn reserve to Fulford street where Goblet finds Bugsy and the ON Home sign. A brisk jog back down to the Basin across the suspension bridge and Goblet and Bugsy are back at the ON ON site, to their amazement Abbas buddy Derb's has delivered the Beer and the trailer.

ON ON:

Mother Teresa has left strict instruction regarding the new concrete drive way, No Fire Pots No spilling beer, No barbecues dripping Fat and no motor vehicles. Mother Teresa will never know what we do says Abba she is at work. The total fire ban has saved Abba on count one no Fire Pots, The Barby has been fired up in the centre of the drive way and sausage fat is oozing out of Bendover's snags and is dripping onto the concrete. Buckets have been placed under the beer taps to stop Boags ale staining the concrete all goes well until the skulls and wasted Boags is soon flowing over the new concrete. Sheila is back from the dead and is with us tonight showing off his groin and the scar where the surgeons inserted the tube for his heart operation { any excuse to show off your groin on a Hash run will do}

Did you get SPINE AND SUBTEXT?

Yeah, neither did I :)~

A Collingwood mother goes to town to register for CentreLink.

"How many children?" asks the assessor.

"10," replies the Collingwood mother.

"10?" says the council worker. "What are their names?"

"Doesn't that get confusing?"

"Nah," says the Collingwood mother. "Its great, because if they are out playing in the street I just have to shout, 'WAYNE, YA DINNER'S READY' or 'WAYNE, GO TO BED NOW' and they all do it."

"What if you want to speak to one individually?" says the perturbed CentreLink worker.

"That's easy," says the Collingwood mother, "I just use their surnames."
