RUN No 2221 131 Cambridge St West Launceston Hare: Electric Eric

LH3 Hash Weekly Bull Shit -

Run report for run 2221 – Electric Eric's Pole Dancing Run

True to his name and his trade Electric Eric decided a pole to pole run was a good idea. Some weeks ago Scary achieved moderate success with a similar novelty using illegally posted instructions on Aurora's private assets. Unlike Scary's effort Electric had a plethora of pre-run instructions to ensure there would be no confusion and guarantee a smooth run for all. Eric had overlooked one important fact – he was dealing with Hashers. Maybe on any other night hashers are intelligent, clever, bright, smart, perceptive, and intuitive (excluding One Hump) but all that goes out the window on Tuesday nights when the total sum of the IQ would find the Collingwood cheer squad a challenge and this assumed intelligence diminishes as the night progresses. So says Eric; “

Street name and “L” and the pole number means the pole is in that street and its a metal pole and further instruction may or may not be written on the pole or on some tape but if its wood the letter will be “P” will replace the “L” but the instructions may be written on the metal bit of the wooden pole. There is no wood as in “P” on any of the metal “L” poles so therefore the instructions will be inclusive and written on the metal unless the number does correspond to an adjacent wooden pole “P” with a metal reinstatement then the instructions may be written in indelible marker on the lower metal of the wooden pole “P” reinstatement. “L” poles cannot be reinstated so no instructions will be written on the lower region of the pole as if it was a “P” pole that had been reinstated. “P” poles that have not been reinstated may have instructions written on the metal identifier of the wooden part but generally these will be written on the wood or in some cases grey duct tape near the pole number. “L” signifies it is a light pole and “P” that it is a power pole however “P” poles can have lights as well but “L” poles are exclusively for lights unless these are in an underground fed subdivision where they may also be used for power but are not considered to be significant enough to be classed as a “P” pole and so will remain an “L”. Some “L” poles also have duct tape with indelible ink instructions but generally the instructions will be on the metal near the number. – First instructions are on pole 54 in Cambridge Street I can't remember if it's an “L” or a “P” pole but it has a light on it. Everyone got that?

Off the pack trots to the first pole; it was wooden, had number corresponding to Eric's direction and had a light on it so by definition this was a “P” pole – regardless it had further instructions to the next destination which required a U-turn back past Eric's. Sure enough in Vaux Street on the pole as per previous instruction were the new coordinates to the next pole. All was working well until the first “P” reinstatement pole where the indelible ink wording on the lower metal reinstatement of the wooden pole was overlooked..... some one had not listened to Eric's instruction!!!! This overcome, the next problem arose in Pamela Court. Does anyone know where Justin Court is? Eric had not factored that Hashers do not have an inbuilt street atlas and if Bendover doesn't know where Justin Court is then what hope do the rest have of knowing? As current or ex or caretaker Prime Minister Malcolm says “Innovation will make the nation” so Thumbs gets out the smart phone and plugs in Justin Court. Is that it? - Palm Desert, California, USA. Yep it's just down off Peel Street near the Pharmacy. We've got the hang of this now??? When Eric set the run he had some idea of where he was going, unfortunately the general populous did not, nor knew not which way the pole numbering went so the legacy of this was extra mileage i.e. opting for the long way around to Harris Street from Springvale when a short cut through the park was suffice. This is ESSENDON Street; as Thumbs reminisced his perpetual loop from the previous week; the offending markings still on the ground, replaced this week by two instructional poles in the same vicinity. Another few pole jumps from here was the On Home but by now the pack had thinned to but a few with some choosing the nameless track over the On Home still visible from last week. Eric said 6 km if you knew where to go, so who knows what 1 ¾ hrs equated to???

Well done Eric the innovation and originality of the run can be rated up there with Mediscare.

ON ON:

The Keg has been well and truly been cracked before Buggy and the G.M Thums return from the run they were the only two who found the ON HOME sign thanks to Mr Google.

Electric Eric had set up the usual wood burning fire pot and for the non smokers a spiffy LPG heater; unfortunately with high winds about everyone shared the smoke equally. Blakey read out a joke his great grandfather told in the trenches during WW1. Tiles told half a ditty and will look up the rest of it for next week. And in Scary's absence while he is in Nizhnenovokutlumbetyev it was decided the 22222222 will be at his shack, Lulworth 23 July.

ON Downs:

Hare Electric Eric downed for tonight's effort

Pash has videos available of his rectal examination inc. colonoscopy
