RUN No 2210 6 Munford St Kings Meadows [Hash Temple] Hare: Blakey

Run report for run 2210 Blakey – The Lookout Run

The Pash Temple resembled more of a Pearn's Steamfest Day than an ON ON. Pash had spent several days, 113 grinding discs, 7.5 kg of low hydrogen welding rods and 3.7 megawatt hours of the state's precious energy constructing an outrageous wood fuelled burner. Nothing but the best for the Hash On On with two storeys of burning platforms loaded with 15 cwt of fire logs and a 10 metre flue chuffing copious amounts of acrid pollution into the night sky; desecration of the environment is a small price to pay, said Pash - "We'll be warm tonight" the normal Pash run? No! Blakey broke with tradition and took the high road snaking its way above the Punch Bowl Rhododendron Garden and into Newstead. An ambulance was looking for a customer as the run passed St Giles – no takers from the pack however the steep incline of McKellar Road proved too much for some of the aged; Goblet and Boong producing their health cards entitling them to free ambulance care - all too late now as they gasped and creaked and groaned their way up the remainder of the hill urged on by memories of the old Peters Ice Cream Factory and the hashers that served there, providing free beer ice for many a year. Talbot

Blakey sent the pack on their way up Munford and Son Street – it was at the top several hashmen were nearly run down by a crazed driver recklessly negotiating the right hander. A slight delay to check underpants proved a good move as the front runners returned from an on back and the reunited group moved towards 6 ways. Down Punchbowl Rd to Blamey Rd and the K.M. Creek - Was this going to be a clone of Road Lookout was the next highlight and many Hashers experienced from the top the beautiful vista of Scary's former em - his hand crafted flats that are miraculously still standing as a monument to his skill and prowess. To the south one could see a stream of red hot cinders, billowing smoke and an uncanny aura, possibly a heat haze. Yes, this was the beacon to follow as it was On Home from here. A great shorter run covering some not often used territory

ON ON:

This is where the system has broken down. Blakey with no script and no notes decides to adlibs tonight leaving me with only faint memory of what happened. (Usually has paperwork to pass on to On Sec). Perhaps Bugsy will fill the gaps.

This is not the only system to break down tonight. The Barby gas bottle ran out and it only took the Hashers twenty minutes to work out their meat was not getting any browner as they were turning it over.

Blakey had a drink for setting a good run.

Sheila skulled for recklessly driving a white ute..... or a green sedan.... or something

Pash skulled for single handedly resurrecting the Australian Steel Industry

Rickshaw a returned runner after his South Pacific cruise

Can't remember any other skulls

Joke of the Week:

FLAWLESS MALE LOGIC ..

Woman: Do you drink beer?

Man: Yes

Woman: How many beers a day?

Man: Usually about 3

Woman: How much do you pay per beer?

Man: $5.00 which includes a tip

(This is where it gets scary !)

Woman: And how long have you been drinking?

Man: About 20 years, I suppose

Woman: So a beer costs $5 and you have 3 beers a day which puts your spending each month at $450. In one year, it would be approximately $5400 correct?

Man: Correct

Woman: If in 1 year you spend $5400, not accounting for inflation, the past 20 years puts your spending at $108,000, correct?

Man: Correct

Woman: Do you know that if you didn't drink so much beer, that money could have been put in a step-up interest savings account and after accounting for compound interest for the past 20 years, you could have now bought a Ferrari?

Man: Do you drink beer?

Woman: No

Man: Where's your Ferrari?

Two blondes fell down a hole. One said, "It's dark in here isn't it?" The other replied, "I don't know; I can't see."

DID YOU HEAR ABOUT THE BLONDE THAT GOT AN AM RADIO? IT TOOK HER A MONTH TO REALIZE SHE COULD ALSO LISTEN TO IT IN THE AFTERNOON

What do you do when a blonde throws a grenade at you? you pull the pin and throw it back

THE ASS END OF THE TRASH

You wont be smiling like that Pash when Louise gets home and finds that you have burnt a months supply of wood tonight

Shit how much more wood can this heater burn , I hope the Hasher go home soon.
