Run report for run 2261 Loggie's. End of Daylight savings Run

Daylight savings finishes this weekend and Loggie a true Hasher from the old days who can remember when it was mandatory to set a bush run during daylight savings knows how to set a bush run and reckons this will be the best summer run of the year. With forty acres of bush on his ranch and another thirty acres on his neighbour's Thumbs, not to mention all the bush on the eastern side of the railway line what can go wrong?? We are talking about the Hare Loggie the Master Of Disasters. ON ON calls loggie we are on lime no need for torches you will be back before dark all False Trails go back to the check. The well marked trail circles around the house and the lake through the tee tree swamp to the first check at the railway line and the boundary of Loggie's and Thumbs property. Thumbs says no point checking on my property I never seen any lime when I came up the driveway. On On is soon called by Thumbs on the eastern side of the railway line. The trail soon peters out and it is discovered it is old lime from a run months ago. Boong checks on Thumbs property and the trail is finally found. The trail passes the car rebirthing factory and heads back onto Loggie's land. Through the horse paddock to another check at the electric fence. Electric Eric volunteers to check if it's live, bloody well is said Electric Eric. Hasher crawl under the fence just as the daylight begins to fade we have been out for over an hour. Scary finds the trail crossing the railway line heading further from home. Five hundred metres up Magazine Rd the trail again heads into the bush the sun has gone and it is as dark as a Welsh coal mine. Goblet has bought his torch and leads the pack to the ON Home sign another 1500 metres and we are back at the ON ON site. Another great summer run set by Loggie certainly in the running for the best Summer Run of 2017

ON ON:

The ON ON site has been set up on the western side of the lake well away from the house and the barn the Master of disasters is taking no chances with the fire getting out of control. Footy has started again, the Bombers are back and have won their first game, die hard supporters have taken their Bombers gear out of moth balls and are strutting around wearing T-shirts and jumpers with pride. The fire ban period has not expired that does not deter Loggie from pouring petrol on his bonfire and getting things underway. Cold beer a bonfire, fire pot, clean barbecue and a warm night to end daylight savings what more could a Hasher wish for in Launceston at the end of March.

Joke of the Week

A doctor at an insane asylum decided to take his patients to the Anzac Day game between Collingwood Magpies and Essendon Bombers at the MCG. For weeks in advance, he coached his patients to respond to his commands. When the day of the game arrived, everything seemed to be going well. They barracked for Bombers. As the National Anthem started, the doctor yelled, "Up Nuts" And the patients complied by standing up. After the anthem, he yelled, "Down Nuts". And they all sat back down in their seats. After Bombers captain Dyson Heppell kicked the opening goal of the match, the doctor yelled, "Cheer Nuts". They all broke into applause and cheered. When the umpire penalised the star of the Essendon, Brendan Goddard, for a push in the back, the Doctor yelled, "Boooooo Nuts!!!" and they all started booing and cat calling. Thinking things were going very well, the doctor decided to go get a beer and a meat pie, leaving his assistant in charge. When he returned, there was a brawl involving more than a dozen players in progress. Finding his assistant, the doctor asked, "What in the world happened?" The assistant replied, "Well, everything was going just fine till a Collingwood supporter passed by and yelled PEANUTS!!"

"Welcome back, sir. Are you planning on being our guest for one night only, or will this be your usual extended stay?"
